

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are poor has increased.

There are two main reasons for this. First, the world population has increased by 1.5 billion people since 1980. Second, the number of people who are poor has increased in almost every country in the world. In the United States, the number of people who are poor has increased from 25 million in 1980 to 35 million in 1995. In the United Kingdom, the number of people who are poor has increased from 5 million in 1980 to 7 million in 1995.

There are many reasons why the number of people who are poor has increased. One reason is that the cost of living has increased. Another reason is that the number of people who are unemployed has increased. A third reason is that the number of people who are disabled has increased. A fourth reason is that the number of people who are elderly has increased.

There are many things that we can do to help people who are poor. We can give them money. We can give them food. We can give them shelter. We can give them clothing. We can give them education. We can give them healthcare. We can give them everything that we need to live.
