

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are undernourished has declined by 100 million.

But the world is still a long way from achieving the goal of eradicating hunger. In 1996, 800 million people were undernourished, and 1 billion people were malnourished.

There are many reasons why the world is still a long way from achieving the goal of eradicating hunger. One of the main reasons is that the world's population is growing rapidly.

Another reason is that the world's resources are being used inefficiently. For example, a large amount of food is wasted every year.

There are also many social and economic factors that contribute to hunger. For example, poverty is a major cause of hunger.

Despite these challenges, there are many ways in which we can work to eradicate hunger. One of the most important ways is to increase food production.

Another important way is to improve the distribution of food. For example, we can work to ensure that food is available to all people.

There are also many social and economic factors that we can work to address. For example, we can work to reduce poverty.

By working together, we can make a difference in the lives of the world's hungry people. We can ensure that everyone has access to the food they need to live a healthy and productive life.

There are many ways in which we can work to eradicate hunger. One of the most important ways is to increase food production.

Another important way is to improve the distribution of food. For example, we can work to ensure that food is available to all people.

There are also many social and economic factors that we can work to address. For example, we can work to reduce poverty.

By working together, we can make a difference in the lives of the world's hungry people. We can ensure that everyone has access to the food they need to live a healthy and productive life.

There are many ways in which we can work to eradicate hunger. One of the most important ways is to increase food production.

Another important way is to improve the distribution of food. For example, we can work to ensure that food is available to all people.

There are also many social and economic factors that we can work to address. For example, we can work to reduce poverty.

By working together, we can make a difference in the lives of the world's hungry people. We can ensure that everyone has access to the food they need to live a healthy and productive life.

There are many ways in which we can work to eradicate hunger. One of the most important ways is to increase food production.

Another important way is to improve the distribution of food. For example, we can work to ensure that food is available to all people.

There are also many social and economic factors that we can work to address. For example, we can work to reduce poverty.

By working together, we can make a difference in the lives of the world's hungry people. We can ensure that everyone has access to the food they need to live a healthy and productive life.

There are many ways in which we can work to eradicate hunger. One of the most important ways is to increase food production.

Another important way is to improve the distribution of food. For example, we can work to ensure that food is available to all people.

There are also many social and economic factors that we can work to address. For example, we can work to reduce poverty.

By working together, we can make a difference in the lives of the world's hungry people. We can ensure that everyone has access to the food they need to live a healthy and productive life.